

Dr. Rahul Ashok Shroff

MS, F M R F (Fellow of the Medical Research Foundation) 1997
Sankara Nethralaya, Chennai

A Fellow in Vitreo-retinal Surgery at the Medical Research Foundation, Sankara Nethralaya, Chennai. His Fellowship included training in various vitreo-retinal services including Fundus Fluorescein Angiography, Photocoagulation, Ultrasonography, Electrodiagnostic work-up, Uveitis and Vitreo-retinal Surgery.

A Vitreo-retinal Surgeon, his area of expertise lies in the management of retinal disorders such as retinal detachments, diabetic retinal involvement (diabetic retinopathy), age-related macular disorders [AMD], retinal vascular disorders and vitreous surgery. His expertise stems from training he received at the renowned Sankara Nethralaya, Chennai.

He has worked in the Duke University Eye Center, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina and also trained under Dr. Matthew A. Thomas MD, Barnes Retina Institute , Washington University, St. Louis, USA.

He is also attached to S L Raheja Hospital and All India Institute of Diabetes, Mahim, Mumbai as Honorary Consultant Ophthalmologist since November 1997.

His memberships include:

The All India Ophthalmologic Society (AIOS)
The Vitreo-retinal Society of India
The Bombay Ophthalmological Association
The Maharashtra Ophthalmologic Society
The Indian Medical Association
The Association of Medical Consultants
The Delhi Ophthalmic Society

He has been the Guest Editor - Macular Degeneration - of the Special Issue of the Bombay Hospital Journal, July 2002